CONSUMERS & OIL PRICE WATCH

COPW CALLS FOR SOBRIETY AND OBJECTIVITY WHILE THE DOE-DOJ TASK FORCE PREPARES ITS RECOMMENDATION ON EO 838

In the wake of the controversy arising from EO 838, COPW is calling for sobriety and objectivity from the Oil Companies especially Philippine Shell, the Business Sector, the Foreign Chambers of Commerce, the Transport Sector, Private Vehicle Owners and the Riding Public.

The Temporary Restraining Order (TRO) filed by Shell with the Manila Regional Trial Court and filed after they appealed to the President to lift EO 838 through full-page ads published in two major newspapers are added fuel to the controversy.

ALLOW THE DOE-DOJ TASK FORCE TO DO ITS JOB

COPW is supporting a one week moratorium on any action, legal or otherwise, to allow the DOE-DOJ Task Force to make its recommendation after it was tasked by the President to meet with the Oil Companies and address their concerns. The Task Force will submit their report within the week.

COPW CONGRATULATES DOJ SECRETARY AGNES DEYAMASERA FOR TAKING DECISIVE ACTION TO STRICTLY ENFORCE SAFEGUARD PROVISIONS

After 11 years of being re-elected to their duties, the DOE-DOJ Task Force is finally stepping up to the plate and exercising its regulatory functions. The Oil Companies must realize this. And they must cooperate and comply fully with the provisions of the Oil Derogation Law. This is confirmation that twenty years has been given to COPW's longstanding recommendations.

COPW has long been advocating transparency in oil pricing through the exercise of its regulatory functions by the DOE-DOJ Task Force. The Task Force is mandated under Section 12 (a), Section 14 (c) and (d) to monitor the volume and value of oil inventories and to inform the public whether the oil companies' price increases or decreases are justified.

The reason why COPW insists that these reports be made available to the SM and DCC is because even if they are made public, such disclosures are not being reconciled with the duties and taxes collected by the government.

COPW'S RECOMMENDATIONS TO THE DOE-DOJ TASK FORCE TO RESOLVE THE IMPASSE ON EO 838 ARE AS FOLLOWS:

- COPW SUPPORTS THE IMMEDIATE LIFTING OF EO 838 FOR GULF, TUGRA, AND THE INDEPENDENT PLAYERS.

This will allow them to price their products based on actual cost of their inventory at that date after a 10-day inventory and are incurring substantial losses.

COPW appreciates the statement by Flying V Chairman Chito Villaverde that upon lifting of EO 838, he will mitigate the impact of higher prices by stepping the increase of P 4.50 per liter over a three week period, or P 1.50 increase per liter per week. He will no longer recover losses as a result of EO 838.

- In a full page open reply to COPW last March 5, 2006, Shell stated that when the cost of finished products based on Mean Of Pilsa Singapore (MOPS) is cheaper than their cost to refine, they import and shut down their refinery. Under this scenario, it is very likely that Shell cannot continue to operate its refinery viably because huge investments are required to maintain its refinery. COPW URGES SHELL TO BE FORTHRIGHT AND DECLARE WHEN THEY USE MOPS PRICES AS BENCHMARK, THEY SHOULD DO THE SAME WHEN THEY USE SUBSIDIZED CRUDE.

Had the Secretary of Energy been in-charge and issued an official statement that a refinery can be allowed to use MOPS in cases where it is cheaper to import than to refine, then the astronomical debate with COPW would not have prolonged for two years and all the issues on the justification for the P 5 and P 7 per liter reduction in prices in March and April would have been prevented.

- Today we only have Petron with the most modern refinery that is comparable with the best in Asia. It is also 70% owned and is publicly listed. TO SUPPORT PETRON, COPW CALLS FOR SOUTHERN TO REVERSE THE 2% DUTY ON ITS CRUDE IMPORTS.

This will compensate for the port duty on finished petroleum products imported to all importers. COPW will also ask government to ensure that oil extracted from Patanon and the areas around it be sold to Petron to add to its capacity instead of the present policy of supporting our indigenous oil. Similarly, we would like added incentives given to Petron so that it can invest to expand its capability to export finished products competitively in the Asia Pacific Region.

Study reveals why RP lags behind neighbors

1P. 3

J. 12

Understanding of why RP lags behind neighbors is a complex one, but it is a complex one.

...the study found that the RP lags behind its neighbors in many ways, including in the areas of health care, education, and economic development. The study also found that the RP has a higher rate of poverty and a lower rate of employment than its neighbors. These findings suggest that the RP is facing significant challenges in many areas, and that it needs to take action to address these challenges.

The increase is attributed to a combination of factors, including a recovery in the economy and a rise in consumer confidence. The PAM notes that the automotive industry is showing signs of growth and that manufacturers are optimistic about the future. However, they also warn that the industry still faces challenges, such as high import duties and a lack of local manufacturing capabilities. Despite these challenges, the PAM expects continued growth in the coming months.
